

KINGSBRAE ARMS

ST. ANDREWS BY-THE-SEA

How to Get Here

DRIVING

From all points in New England, take I-95 to Bangor, then travel east on Route 9 to the Maine border town, Calais. In Calais, cross the International Bridge to St. Stephen New Brunswick and connect with Coastal Highway 1. A customs agent will be happy to point the way.

Once you are in Canada, travel east on Coastal Highway 1 from St. Stephen. Watch for the St. Andrews turn-off. Drive south at the turn off about ten miles to town. Without forking to the left or right, proceed to the first stop sign at the intersection of Harriet and Parr Street. Go through this stop sign to the next which will be King Street. Turn left and drive up the hill, away from the wharf, to the top. The inn is the last estate house on the right. If you miss a turn or two, don't worry. The sheer beauty may distract you, or maybe you'll want to look around this gem of a town before calling on us. Trust us. You can't get lost.

FLYING

If you fly into Saint John, simply travel west on Coastal Highway 1 to the St. Andrews turnoff, and follow the same directions above.
